

THE SCHOOL REPORT

For the Month of March Shows at Attendance of 1517 Pupils.

FIGURES FOR THE WHOLE MONTH

Contestants Complain That Uniontown High School Did Not Treat Them Fairly in Aftermath of Recent Contest.

There are only seven more weeks of school, and the children are already getting ready for the final examination which will be held during next month. During the month ending March 31 there were 447 visitors to the schools and the total attendance was 1,369, and the percentage of attendance in all grades was 33. With the exception of one pupil in the second ward, where sickness was prevalent for a few days, the rooms where in they tots are pupils held up on an average with the rooms where older children study.

Pupils in the High School say that they got the little end of the horn in the aftermath of the recent literary contest held at Uniontown. They argue that Uniontown challenged them to a contest, and the medals' stock out for the visitors, and when the County Capital boys and girls failed to win them, then these trophies were not given out. Neither did the Uniontown school share with the local schools in the proceeds for the contest which must have been considerable, as the Grand Opera House was crowded. No one was far fare for the Councils'ville contingent paid.

The detailed statement for the monthly school report is as follows, the figures in the first column being for enrollment, the second average attendance and the third percentage of attendance.

BIG INSTITUTE

At Normalville Brings Out Great Array of the County's Talent

NORMALVILLE, April 8.—The annual Teachers' Institute of Normalville was held in the M. E. church on the 6th and 7th. The institute was very successful and interesting and maintained the good record the village holds for these meetings. The meeting was called to order at 2 o'clock P. M. by President H. K. Brooks. After singing Rev. Colledge led in prayer, after which the choir lead in the Coronation.

George Colledge, a lad of 15 years, delivered a short address of welcome. A. C. that would done honor to a much older boy. Homer Eicher of Mill Run made the response. Rev. Colledge was next called on and made an address to the Institute. Miss Violette Sipe came next with a well prepared recitation.

Rollie Chorpennan, one of Dunbar township's foremost teachers, next entertained the institute with a nice talk. After music and games, conducted by Fred Herman, master-musician, the Institute adjourned to meet at 7:30 o'clock promptly.

The eve'ning session opened with music and splendid address by Attorney Rhodes of Uniontown. Miss Edna Hayes of Scottdale was called and favored the institute with a presentation. I. Chorpennan gave the needed change on the text book system, which met the unanimous approval of the audience. Prof. O. O. Saylor of Cadwallader came next. The Professor will conduct a normal school here the coming summer and he is well known by the people of Normalville.

George L. Moore, candidate for Assembly in the Second district, being present, was called and made a short talk. Lincoln Rugg handled the subject, "The Destruction of San Francisco." Rev. Colledge gave a plain and practical talk on "Patrons' Duties to the School." Director J. H. Prinkley followed on "Imagination," and warmed the Institute up in his old way. Mr. Prinkley is one of our best school men. Leon Brooks was called on and interested the people with an excellent recitation. When the queries were disposed of Miss Hayes sang a solo and the Institute adjourned.

Local Option Meeting. There will be a Local Option mass meeting held in the Solson Theatre Thursday evening, April 9. Rev. J. T. McCrory, D. D., of Pittsburgh, and Rev. Father Lambing, of Scottdale, will talk. All are invited.

WEDNESDAY EVE, APRIL 8, 1908.

THE MAKING OF A POLITICAL MACHINE.

The bold announcement of a county slate by a junta of Republicans, who holders and friends of politicians struck most Republicans voters dumb with amazement, yet it was only the legitimate result of recent efforts in Fayette county to build up a political machine that would put that of Tammany to shame for its "practical politics."

Partial control of the county press was first obtained by purchase. The amount required was so meager that the investors were held, and they had calculated the cost and provided for its payment.

The next step was the control of the County Committee. Money was liberally spent for this purpose, too, and innocent voters wondered why. There were several good reasons, but the formation of the machine was the chief.

Having firmly established themselves in control of the party organization, which is to say the County Committee, the architects of the machine proceeded to perfect its details by adding it as subordinate parts of the mechanism as many of the County Committees had been previously.

This was done by making them stockholders in the enterprise. Certain dividends were pledged to them, in return for which their loyalty to the machine and their ability to execute its orders are expected. Failure in either requirement dissolves the partnership without injury to either party, and it is to say that when the stock is forfeited to the machine.

This is the organization which is expected to carry the county slate through on Saturday. The machine committee man who fails is "down and out" and his place will be given to the man whom the bosses think can "make good."

The machine evidently thinks that machine is capable of nominating their ticket, hence their boldness in proclaiming the slate. The success of the machine will cement its grip and make it more invincible the next time.

IS IT ANY WONDER THAT THE SPIRIT OF INDEPENDENCE IN THE WESTMORELAND PART OF THE STATE COUNTY IS AN OPEN REBELLION AGAINST SUCH A MONSTROUS INQUITY?

THE HABIT OF PAYING TAXES.

S. Watson Strawn, Democratic Tax Collector of Connellsville, elected on an alleged Reform ticket, was probably one of the most incompetent but rough officials Connellsville ever had. His honest efforts now wrestling with the problem of collecting and settling the 1904 school duplicate.

The times are not prosperous and it is perhaps not an opportune occasion on which to urge closer tax collections, but we have, in season and out of season, during the long period of prosperity through which we have passed and to which we hope soon to return again, advocated the collection of all taxes, and particularly the ones in which they are issued.

Paying taxes is a habit. This community and this section of the State generally has acquired the habit of paying taxes "any old time." It may be within the year or it may be two years after. It is true that after two years the taxes are left in the hands of the Collector, but after two years he does not sell the property subject to these taxes, but in form only. The title virtually remains in the owner for a number of years thereafter.

It is rare, indeed, that the owners of property are not able to pay the amount of their taxes, if they are properly presented for payment. The trouble has been that they have not been sufficiently urged to make settlement. They have thus acquired the slothful habit of putting payment off until years have elapsed. It is an evil and expensive habit.

It would be far better for both tax-payer and community if all taxes were paid within the discount period. Such settlement would lower taxes, make possible payments, and make everybody happier and better.

We are sadly in need of tax reform and reform in tax payments.

IN POLITICS AND IN BUSINESS.

The Congressional campaign in Westmoreland county is strenuous though quiet. There seem to be some good reasons for this fact.

The Public Ledger editor assures that he is unable to advertise his candidacy in the Westmoreland papers, because they are either controlled or dominated by Colonel Huff. For this reason he resorted to posters.

But even the posters have been rendered ineffective in some portions of the county. No sooner were they put up than they were covered by Huff posters.

All of which proves the value of newspaper publicity, in politics as well as in business.

Rebels by night are not to be encouraged, especially when they are noisy. Noisy people may become nuisances and disturbances are annoying, not to say unlawful.

The borough can get rid of the bums, by sending them to the county jail, but it can't get rid of their board bills.

The Town Council is developing a great capacity for making motions.

Sea stores are ripe.

There is a large array of silent voters who are preparing to cast a shattering ballot at the slate.

New Haven pledges its support for politics. "Our alleged exorbitant water rates," New Haven is on the right track. It is the natural to what we want to do after, not the impossible.

Connellsville residents has the right notion about the relative necessity of voters and street paving.

Uptown sports are export on picnics and other games, but horse-trading by horse-traders, by something that stings the best of us.

The miners will take a further vacation. They do not seem to be in a hurry to go "Back to the Mine."

The swarm of candidates is buzzing and somebody will get stung on Saturday.

The political pot is boiling.

There are millions of candidate cards, but only one slate.

Boss Castro of Venezuela has something coming to him.

BURGESS VETOES SALARY ORDINANCE

lard appealed to the Council to give up having ideas and lay sewers, stating that the greater, searing of a town meant life and death, while the paving of streets could not kill a man, or even injure him. It was finally decided to have the petition referred to the Ordinance Committee with instructions to prepare an ordinance, and the question will be disposed of at the next meeting.

Andrew Hines was directed to grade Baisley alley at the contract price for which the former grading upon it was done. Mr. Hines will lay the alley at his own expense, and the Borough will pay for the grading work.

The clerk was directed to notify the telephone companies laying poles along North Pittsburg street between Main and Orchard Alley to remove them. This action was taken at the request of the Second National Bank, which desires to have the paving and grading of the streets interfere with the running of the basement to the sidewalk.

The North alley paving came in again last night and a belated bid was presented by Councilman Girard. Bids were advertised for the paving of the alley last November, but owing to the fact that no bids were received, nothing was ever done. Mr. Girard, however, was offered, but it became lost and only turned up last night. It was returned to the bidder without being opened, and bids will be advertised for.

Councilman Millard secured two additional electric lights for the South Side and Councilman McCormick, one, for the Third ward. The lights are to be located at Pine street and Davidson avenue, Chestnut and Davidson avenue and Murphy avenue and Prospect street.

The Second Ward Volunteer Fire Department presented their salary list for the past year and asked that it be paid. The salaries of the men amount to $310. The Pinnacle Department also asked that they be given their money. Both requests were referred to the Finance Committee.

Dr. S. S. Stahl made a vigorous protest against paving a bill presented by the borough and said that it was unjust. The Council, notified him to lay sidewalks along his South Side property, and he stated that he did not care for the matter, and was prepared to do the work when the borough jumped in and did it for him. Mr. Wallace moved that no compromise be made with Dr. Stahl and stated that if he had a grievance it could be fought out in the courts. The motion to that effect carried.

Following the reading of the minutes there was a little skirmish between Mr. Huston and Councilman Stillwagon. The latter inquired of Huston what authority he had for stating that the indebtedness of the town had been decreased $10,000, and claimed that the reduction was only trifling. Mr. Huston endeavored to cover the matter by saying he made the statement, and Mr. Wallace inquired what had been made of order No. 67, and for what it was drawn. While the clerk was hunting up the data Borough Engineer Hogg presented his report of the survey of the town required by the State Health Department. The order book was finally found, but could not be determined from it what the order was drawn for, as only the amount was given on the stub. Wallace wanted to know if it was not for a car of brick, and it developed that it was for freight. The whole matter was then dropped, and the Council then proceeded to adjourn.

Borough Collector made a lengthy report and stated that he had been pushing the paving claims and had been meeting with good success.

STATE GUARD RECORDS

Must Be Made After May 1
With the New Pattern of Rifles.

STATE OFFICERS GIVE DATA

To G. A. R. Post at Smithfield concerning the Stand of Arms Requested for Drilling Purposes.

Special to the Courier.
SMITHFIELD, April 8.—At the last meeting of Jerry Jones Post No. 541, of this place, some interesting data was brought out concerning the stands of arms which the State Guard must have for use in the making of records and scores, beginning May 1, and in the stands of arms to be given out to posts of the G. A. R. for drilling purposes. Communications were read at the meeting from Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart and Congressman Cooper, relative to the furnishing of arms to the veterans and Sons of Veterans for drilling purposes.

Adjutant General Stewart says that the 1,000 stands of 45-calibre rifles owned by the State, and which the National Guard were armed with at the outbreak of the Spanish-American War, were all called in after this war and the 30-calibre issued in their stead. These are owned by the United States government, and 1,000 stands that were the property of the State have been loaned to posts of the G. A. R. and to Sons of Veterans, and therefore there are no arms available at this time belonging to the State of Pennsylvania to loan to camps of Sons of Veterans.

The rifles with which the National Guard is at present armed belong to the local State government and the State authorities are without power to loan these arms to any organization or to use them for any purpose other than National Guard purposes.

Congressman Cooper will take the matter up with the War Department and see what can be done. At the meeting, Comrade Gause said that the adjutant was instructed to extend an invitation to Hon. E. H. Repert and Judge Edward Campbell to attend the Memorial Day exercises here, May 30 next. The matter of vocal music for Memorial Day was by motion put to the hands of the Sons of Veterans. The singing of vocal music has received a decided amount of support and considerable attention to the post on account of rival choirs and leaders of them in this town. This disposition of the matter, it is to be hoped, will eliminate that. One regiment mustered in at this meeting, J. M. De Lowe, of the 18th Pennsylvania Infantry, and 14th Pennsylvania Volunteer Cavalry.

Samuel Thompson and wife of Roscoe are visiting Martha Thompson, the former's mother.

Horses, Horses, Horses. We will have a lot of general purpose, driving and draft horses at our barn, Uniontown, Pa., Friday of this week. If you need or want to buy a horse, come to see us. We are going to have them all sold by Saturday night. No reasonable offer will be refused. DWIGHT E. HAMILTON.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.

Health is Worth Saving and Some Connellsville People Know How to Save It.

Many Connellsville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and pain, but there is no need to suffer now, to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a Connellsville citizen's recommendation.

Mr. Frank Beeler, 239 E. Madison Street, Connellsville, Pa., says: "Mr. Beeler suffered from kidney disease for years and was growing worse every year. He complained a great deal of severe pains in the back and loins which were accompanied by rheumatic attacks. The action of the kidneys was irregular, and the secretions plainly showed by their color that his kidneys were failing. He took Doan's Kidney Pills, so highly recommended, he presented a boy at Graham & Co.'s Drug Store and began taking them. He soon felt much better, the pains ceased and the kidney action was regular. Today he is without a symptom of kidney trouble and gives the credit of his cure to Doan's Kidney Pills."

The New Mayor
Based on G. H. Broadhurst's Successful Play
The Man of
The Hour

By ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE.

Copyright, 1907, by George H. Broadhurst.

"Say, Bennett," roared a deep voice as the door from the outer office was banged open and Horrigan, red faced and angry, burst in, "I understand that you've— Oh, I didn't know you had a lady calling on you," he broke off.

"Well, I have," retorted Bennett, furiously at the unluckily intruder. "Igarn should have told you that at the door."

"Don't keep me waiting long," said "I don't stop to hear what folks tell me at doors. I'll wait outside till you're alone."

"Don't trouble to wait. Goodby."

"You can bet I'll trouble to wait," snarled Horrigan. "There's something you and I have got to settle today. Understand? I'll be outside. Don't keep me waiting long!"

CHAPTER VI.

WHAT a strange man!" exclaimed Dallas Wahright in wonder, as the anteroom door slammed behind the boss. "And what utterly abominable manners! Who is he, Alwyn?"

"Horrigan."

"Richard Horrigan, the—"

"The boss. Yes. He has a pleasing way of stamping into this office unasked, as if he owned it and as if I were his clerk. But today's behavior was the worst yet. It's got to stop!"

"But don't do or say anythingreckless, Alwyn. Promise me. Remember how strong he is."

"There's no danger of his letting me forget his power," said Bennett, with a bitter smile. "He—"

"But you'll be careful, won't you? Please do, for my sake. And you mustn't keep him waiting. If there's a way out through Cynthia's office we'll go by that. Goodby. I'll explain to your mother. No; you must let us go now. Office business must come first. Won't you call this evening? I'll be home and alone."

Despite Bennett's remonstrances she was firm, and it was in no pleasant frame of mind that the mayor threw himself into a seat when he was left alone in the room. That the talk with Dallas, which had promised so much for him, should be thus rudely interrupted. That— Horrigan lunged open the door and stamped in. The boss' anger had by no means subsided in the few moments of delay, but had, rather, grown until it vibrated in his every word and gesture. He wasted no time in formalities, but came to the point with all the tender grace and tact of a pig driver.

"Look here, Bennett," he rumbled, menacingly, "you've been here this afternoon. What did he want?"

"To see me," answered Bennett calmly. "He's a strict, self-control, fishing only in the willowing of the knuckles that strips the desk edge."

"What did he want to see you about?"

"A business matter?"

"Fine."

"You're, eh?" snarled Horrigan.

"Well, young man, I want you to understand here and now that no one can be chummy with Jim Phelan and be my man at the same time. Got that through your head?"

"Yes," assented Bennett; "I think I have. And while we're speaking plainly I want you to understand here and now that no one can bully me, either here or elsewhere, and that I'm no man's man. Have you got that through your head?"

Horrigan stared in savage amazement. He doubted if his ears had not played him false. Bennett had always treated the boss with uniform courtesy, and Horrigan belonged to the too numerous class who do not understand until too late the difference between gentle breeding and weak cowardice. That a man should speak to him courteously and not interlard his talk with oaths, obscenity or roughness seemed to Horrigan, as it does to many another boor, an evidence of timidity and lack of virility. A Damascus blade is a far more harmless looking weapon than a bludgeon, yet it is capable when the necessity arises of far deadlier work.

It is only the man whose gentleness has not granite strength at its foundation who deserves the newly popular term of "mollycoddle."

Had Horrigan's large experience with men been intended to embrace this fact he would probably never have picked out Alwyn Bennett in the first place as candidate for mayor, nor deemed the younger man a fit tool for the organization's crooked work. The French nobles of the old regime, whose polish of manner was the envy of the world, fought like devils on occasion and went to death on the scaffold, with a smile and a jest on their lips, while many a brutal damnable in the same circumstances broke down and screamed for mercy. However, Horrigan knew the man more familiar with the history of the organization than with that of France; hence, deeming Bennett's reply a mere sporadic flash of defiance from a properly cowed spirit he resolved to crush the rebellion at a blow.

Our Men's Store is Separate and Apart From the Rest of Our Establishment.

The Grouping of Our Men's Clothing and Accessory Apparel in One Section of the Store is a Great Aid to Shopping.

Our men's store is an establishment big in itself. Its arrangement is such that a man need not enter another department than those devoted to his wares. We believe that it is due to this feature largely that we enjoy such an extensive business with men. A purchase can be made quickly and conveniently. The entire right half of the main floor is given over to men's wear. Haberdashery, Shoes, Clothing, Hats, all on the first floor. No steps to climb, just step in off the street. The handiest place in town for a man to shop. The high class of all merchandise sold under the Wright Metzler name, added to the accessibility of our shops make this the logical place for men to shop.

Monarch and Cluett Shirts.

Our First Complete Showing for the Season of 1908.

Plain or pleated fronts, attached or detachable cuffs, light or dark grounds, sizes from 14 to 18, dozens of different patterns to choose from and made by the biggest shirt house in the world, that's the kind of a shirt stock we present. That's the kind of a shirt stock from which to choose your season's shirt supply.

A shirt made from correct measurements is bound to fit. It's the fit that made these shirts famous. Big variety is necessary that you may make satisfactory choice. The name "Cluett" and "Monarch" guarantees the fit. The comprehensive Wright-Metzler Co.'s collection means wide latitude of choice.

Crawford Oxfords Can't Slip at the Heel.

They Are Made With a Specially Shaped Heel That Prevents Slipping.

$4.00

The "Hug Tite" heel of the Crawford Oxford is not the only new and better feature of the Crawford Oxford. By a new and intricate process the Crawford toe is made to "stand up" where others "fall down." In addition to these two important features, the Crawford shoe is thoroughly good throughout, leathers, linings and workmanship are critically examined by experts before they are boxed. Crawford's are made upon the smartest and snappiest lasts you've seen. The Oxford is highest favor at this time is of tan leather closed with a strap and brass buckle.

There is a "Crawford" for every occasion. We take pleasure in presenting the complete series of Crawford styles.

Easter Neckwear Should be of the "Kaiser Make."

It's a Guarantee of Correctness.

50c and $1.00

Kaiser Cravats—not only are they fashioned from the best of silks, but they are correctly fashioned. It seems hardly necessary to enlarge on the fitness of "Kaiser Cravats," they absolutely dominate the neckwear world. They originate nearly every neckwear feature that finds favor with the best dressed public. These are absolute facts and though a necktie is a very small portion of your outer apparel. We deem it a very important part of dress. We take pleasure in presenting a satisfactory collection of Kaiser Neckwear.

An Unbecoming Hat is Not Stylish.

If One Style of Hat Suited Everyone the Hat Business Would be a Cinch.

To be every one's hatter means a mighty big hat stock. We are not hatters to everybody but our stock would meet the demands of such a business. Every height of crown, every width of brim, every modish color, you'll find them all here. We do a tremendous hat business, it's due to three things, variety, quality and economic pricing. Variety enables us to fit every head, that comes to us, stylishly; quality insures future sales; low prices guarantee a satisfied customer. Shapes are mostly small this season, though we show many medium and large shapes for the conservative dresser. Prices range from
